Velvet Cape
FOR ABOUT - $\frac{1}{3}$ VALUE!

SPECIAL SALES are usually at the close of seasons—but we have inaugurated a new plan—and to-day on our SPECIAL COUNTER, first floor, you will find Light Suitings, about 50 pieces—42, 44 or 48 inches wide, all-wool—at 28c, 35c, 39c, 48c per yard, that really sold for three times this price. But we must move them and this is the way we intend to have you help us.

CIRCLE CAPES! Those Nobby Garments every lady should have. We have put on sale 25 pieces of Changeable Velvet, just the material to make them from, and the price we put on them will permit you having it made and still save money. Splendid line of Dark Colors that were formerly $1.25 to $2 per yard, we are closing out at the low price of 88c per yard. Early buyers will get choice of colors. Don't miss it!

SPRING SUITS—D. GUNDLING & CO.

Do You Want a Doctor?

Not for the grip, but to put your body inside of one of our ELEGANT SPRING SUITS. THE STAR CLOTHING is to-day as far ahead of the ready made clothing shown elsewhere as electricity is of tallow dips. If a man doesn't care for looks he needn't care how, or of what his clothing is made. Any conglomeration of shoddy or low grade wools, slighted at every stage of its manipulation for the sake of cheapness, will do. It won't hold its shape. If it holds its color, that's luck, and if it holds together for the season, that's more luck.

But if you DO care for looks, and want Reliable Clothing, of materials selected and treated in the manufacture with LOOKS and LASTING always in view, the "STAR" CLOTHING is entitled to your consideration.

THE QUEEN OF THE MAY.

A Brilliant Celebration of the Quint Old Festival

AT MT. DE CHANTAL YESTERDAY.

A Day on Which the Young Lady Students of That Famous Institution Enjoy the Pleasures of a Time Honored Custom There—The Coronation, May-Pole Dance and Banquet—Handsome Decorations and Elegant Receptions.

It is said that time and tide wait for no man, but they, too, it would seem, bow to the absolute sovereignty of American femininity, since the celebration supposed to belong indisputably to the first day of the Month of Flowers was held, instead, on the second at Mt. de Chantal Academy. And the day dawned ideally, all sapphire skies and golden sunshine, altogether a day well worth the waiting for.

The first feature of the celebration was the attendance of mass by the May Queen and court, and then the day was given over to the happiest kind of holi-daying, time and energies being devoted to tennis playing, impromptu violet parties, or any of the thousand and one diversions to which the lovely pleasure ground inspired their privileged freeholders.

But by 5 o'clock the brilliant formality of a court had somehow taken the place of all this informal pleasuring, and when the doors of the music hall were thrown open the first sight that greeted all eyes was a right royal throne, overarched by daintiest white draperies and a wealth of apple blossoms and marguerites. The light Rev.
Bishop Donahue, at whose hands the Queen was to have the honor of receiving her crown, awaited, with the Sisters, the entrance of Her May-Day Majesty, Miss Sadie O'Bryan, of Philadelphia.

The long corridor was crowded with charmingly gowned girls, so that it looked like a transplanted flower garden, but at the opening strains of a delightful march from the Opera House orchestra this flower like loveliness was suddenly transformed from its clustered groups into lines of military procession, and so advanced into the hall, forming finally into a double corollon through which the queen, preceded by her maids of honor, passed. As she knelt on the coronation cushion the right reverend bishop bestowed the garland crown, with a few appropriate words of congratulation, and the queen, preceded by her entire court, white costumed and bearing wands decorated with smilax and marguerites, then took her place on the throne. Immediately the splendid May-pole, brave with evergreen and ribbons, was surrounded by a brilliant group, each little maiden of which was costumed in harmony with her particular ribbon down to the tips of her dainty slippers, making altogether a beautiful color study even before the dancing began; then the scene "begared all description," and only the ever changing brilliancy of a kaleidoscope could furnish any comparison for the beautiful effects produced, as ribbons and costumes were interwoven in harmonious mazes.

After the dance in honor of newly crowned majesty congratulations, formal and informal, were in order, and then all adjourned to the chapel, where after the graceful and impressive ceremony, in which the May Queen crowns the Blessed Lady with lilies and roses, benediction was given.

After benediction followed the banquet, for which much of both decoration and refreshment was supplied by prominent florists and caterers. The Queen's table was especially beautiful with its profusion of marguerites and its miniature May pole. The guests were also greeted by dinner cards decorated with thoughtful consideration of individual tastes, talents and preferences. Not the least delightful dish of the various courses served was that heaped high with mottoes, among which it would have been hard indeed to miss finding something for both friends and foes.

Bishop's Donahue's presence for the coronation, benediction and for the opening of the banquet was most cordially appreciated as a great pleasure as well as honor, and it was a matter of sincere regret to all that duties recalled him so early to Wheeling.

The Queen's immediate court was made up by the following young ladies: Miss Frances Sullivan, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Harriet Sinn, of New York; Birdie Wolf, of Piqua, O.; Gertrude Sinn, of New York; Marie Grubb, of Wheeling; Frances Tierney, of Weston, W. Va.; Nora O'Brien, of Wheeling; Mary Daugherty, of Beaver, Pa.; Martha Medill, of Bridgeport; A. Stella Longuey, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Genevieve Moran, of Emonton, Pa.; Genevieve Thomas, of Leavenworth, Kas. The crown bearer was Clara Hook, of Wheeling, and bouquet bearers, Bessie Sharkey, of Colerain, O., and Elizabeth Steenrod, of Wheeling. The Queen's costume was very lovely, white silk, entrain, long tulle veil, crown of lilies of the valley and bouquet of marguerites.
The evening closed with dancing, and the entire celebration was voted a brilliant success.

FOUR NEW CASES

Of Smallpox, but They Are Confined to the Eighteenth Street House.

Four new cases of smallpox were reported to Health Officer Dr. J. G.
Walden yesterday, but there need be no occasion for renewed alarm, as they are all confined to the house No. 194 Eighteenth street, where Mrs. Snyder was stricken. She had it in a very mild form, but her husband, who has been nursing her, yesterday developed unmistakable symptoms of the disease, as did three other inmates of the same household. The premises have been strictly quarantined, and the danger of the disease spreading in that neighborhood is no greater than it was before; if anything not so great.

Improvements at Mt. Calvary.

Many improvements are being made at Mt. Calvary cemetery by Superintendent Walter Burke and his assistants. Although it is one of the most beautiful of cemeteries it is being beautified still further by the removal of many of the boxwood trees dividing the lots, thus bringing out the sweep of green lots and handsome monuments.
It was the intention of the authorities to make this resting place of so many of the dead, one of great beauty, sweetness and calm. The erection of a Calvary at some prominent spot is being thought of and it is hoped that this feature will be added.

THREE PROPOSITIONS

Made by the Moundsville Manufacturing Company to Stockholders.

The Moundsville Mining and Manufacturing Company, of Moundsville, has made three propositions to its stockholders, circulars setting them forth having been mailed to each stockholder.
The propositions give them the opportunity of disposing of their holdings, taking real estate therefor. The plan seems to be very liberal and is being rapidly accepted by the holders of stock. Since the propositions were submitted between thirty and forty lots have been taken. The office of the company in Moundsville has been besieged within the past few days by parties holding stock, who are taking advantage of the offers. These offers only remain open until the 15th inst., and it would be well for the stockholders, who intend taking advantage of the same to get early on the ground, in order to get some of the best selections.
All the lots the company agrees to give are well situated and are not in any low, swampy ground.
